

January 31, 2008

News Release

Phil Spitze
843-492-4982

PHOTOGRAPHERS WITHOUT BORDERS JOINS WITH EBAY TO SAVE THE ARTS

Rockford, IL - This February and March, eBay Giving Works (eBay's dedicated program for charity listings), will be shining a Spotlight on Saving the Arts. eBay is encouraging everyone to raise money for organizations that foster and exhibit artists' work, including Photographers Without Borders.

Participants will experience additional benefits and individual eBay listings will enjoy several unique program features that have been proven to attract more buyers and raise awareness such as the eBay Giving Works ribbon and enhanced search-ability.

User-defined percentages will be donated back to Photographers Without Borders helping them fulfill their mission to provide educational and financial support to the communities of the world through the promotion and sale of fine art photography.

Photographers Without Borders will be offering their own items up for bid starting on February 15th and will include camera equipment, text books, and even tuition to a photography class. To view all listings benefiting Photographers Without Borders, please visit their website or view directly at: www.missionfish.org/pwob

Photographers Without Borders can be found on the web at: www.PhotographersWithoutBorders.org