SCRIPT

Dear world ,

We know this has been difficult.

Lives have been lost. Shops closed. Businesses bankrupted. Meanwhile it feels like social and environmental injustices have just raged on.

They say the most valuable thing in the world is time.

And this time has been X (ex. challenging, enlightening)

There has never been a more important time to create art, share stories that matter, and help build each other up. Together we can do so much more.

We are a community of X (ex. photographers, videographers, filmmakers, storytellers, activists, parents, regular people)

Who care about ethical storytelling and are uniting to make tangible change.

We are X (ex. unpretentious, supportive, fun, thought-provoking).

The one thing that is very clear is power in storytelling. And we are all about putting that power in your hands so that you can change your world. When we change, the things around us change, and then the world changes.

It all starts with us coming together as one people.

Together we can X (ex. change the world, get out of this alive, make it to tomorrow).

We are more than photographers.

We are Photographers Without Borders.
